Software Engineer

Sopra Steria

Valencia, Spain

02/2024 -

I was tasked with migrating the main application of my company to a modern framework. So after offering different solutions to the main board about the approach to take I was given the green light to start developing. It was an application used by warehouses around the world with 24/7 uptime including different dbs, languages and requirements.

Different dbs, languages, requirements, etc. The tech stack of choice was node Next js, frontend, Nest JS backend, cache layer, a load balancer, a db and the CI/CD process all hosted in AWS services.

Responsible for the architecting, developing, deployment and maintaining of the app. React, Node js, Redis, PostgreSQL, AWS, Python.
